Found at Coro.

In the Limits of British Guiana are Given as About the Same

As Venezuela Now Claims—The Map Will
Be Forwarded to the United States
For the Use of the Venezuelan Commission in Their Deliberations.

New York, Jan. 31.—A dispatch to the Herald from Caracas, Venezuela, says: Antonio Fernandez, president of the state of Falcon, has telegraphed that in the archives of Coro, capital of the state and the oldest city in Venezuela, has been found a map published in London in 1794, in which the limits of British Guiana are given about as Venezuela asserts are right. Minister of Foreign Affairs Rojas sent an answer to President Fernandez thanking him for the information and asking him to send all documents he might discover which could aid the work of the special commission engaged here in copying and preparing maps, etc., for the boundary commission appointed by President Cleveland.

Reports from the west say that the revolution there still continues. Gen. Ricart, who had started for Caracas, returned, and in a fight with the rebels captured four of their leaders.

Carvajal, who was recently released from the rotunda, has been rearrested in Puerto Cabello.

The city of Valencia, capital of the state of Carabobo, has been left in darkness because of a fight with an electric light company. A contract was made by the authorities with an American named Bird to light the city, but an Englishman named Lomax, who was in control of the plant, refused to allow the electric current to be turned on. Great confusion has been caused by the trouble.

Bank Cashier Suicides.
ROME, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Hon. George Barnard, cashier of the Fort Stanwix national bank, was found on the third floor of the bank building Friday forenoon. He had tied a cord to a door knob and with a slipknot around his neck had braced his foot against the door and throwing his head back had strangled himself to death. He had been missing since Wednesday morning. A meeting of the bank directors has been called, and Bank Examiner Van Ranken is here. It is believed that Mr. Barnard had become insane.

Hugh Dempsey's Pardon.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 31.—The pardon of Hugh Dempsey, who has been serving out a term in the Riverside penitentiary for being implicated in the poisoning of workmen during the great strike at Homestead, was received by Warden Wright at an early hour this morning. At 10 o'clock Dempsey's wife, accompanied by two friends, drove to the penitentiary, and after a touching scene, at 10 o'clock they, in company with the now ex-prisoner, drove away.

Express Robber Confesses.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Jan. 31.—George Kroust, the Wells-Fargo express agent, has confessed that he stole the express package containing $35,000, for which he was arrested, but he asserts that his father, who is also a prisoner, had nothing to do with the robbery. The son has been taken by detectives to Illinois, where his father lived, probably for the purpose of recovering the remainder of the stolen money.

Re-Elected Associate Justice.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 31.—In joint session the general assembly re-elected Y. J. Pope, associate justice of the state supreme court for a series of eight years. Speaker R. B. Jones, of the house of representatives, was elected an associate justice also for a term of six years, filling the new place recently created. Mr. Frank B. Gary, of Abbeville, was elected speaker to succeed Mr. Jones.

Still on the Bar.
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Four tugs of the Merritt Wrecking Co. were at work Friday morning in another vain endeavor to pull the big American steamship St. Paul out of the sand of Long Beach. Despite the efforts of the tugboats, the St. Paul refused to budge and there is little likelihood of getting her off the beach into the deep water until the wind blows from the east.

Two Georgians Must Hang.

"Hat" Shen Resisted.
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Gov. Morton has granted "Hat" Shen, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Robert Ross during an election in Troy, a further respite to February 11.

CHARRED BONES

Lead to the Suspicion of a Foul Murder
Near Patoka, Ill.

VANDALIA, Ill., Jan. 31.—Evidence of a foul murder has been unearthed near Patoka, 14 miles south of here, by the finding of a lot of charred human bones, supposed to be those of a man named Smith, a nephew of Thomas Smith. Smith left home on horseback two months ago, and since then nothing has been heard of him. A few weeks after his disappearance a horse was found tied to a tree in the woods, and from all appearances died from starvation. Tramps were seen in the vicinity, and a deserted camp was found. A large hollow tree had been set on fire by the tramps, and in the ashes were discovered the human bones.

DESERTED HIM.

Chambers Changes His Vote From Hunter to Judge Holt.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 31.—The first break in Hunter's forces came in the formal ballot Thursday. Chambers deserted him and voted for Judge Holt. The vote then stood: Hunter 64, Blackburn 55, Stege, of Louisville, voted for Congressman Evans.

Since Dr. Hunter won't tell whether or not he is a naturalized citizen of the United States, a resolution was introduced into the house Thursday morning for the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter and find out whether from this cause the doctor is ineligible to a seat in the United States Senate. The resolution was ruled out of order, the speaker being a republican.

Incendiaries Acquitted.
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 31.—The trials of three white men and one Negro for incendiaryism at Kingston, which have occupied eight days, ended Thursday with a verdict for the defendants, who were charged with having caused many fires and great loss of property. When the verdict was announced the judge said to the jury: "You have the consolation of knowing that you have turned loose four very guilty men."

AN EXPLOSION.

Rolling Mill Boiler at Hollidaysburg Lets Go.

Three Men Killed, Four Fatally and Twenty Others Seriously Hurt.

Cause of the Accident a Mystery—The Boiler Had But Recently Been Repaired and Tested—A Portion of the Rolling Mill Completely Wrecked.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 31.—The most disastrous affair that has happened in this section for years occurred here Thursday morning when a boiler exploded in a large rolling mill of the Hollidaysburg Iron and Nail Co. Three persons were killed, four may die and twenty others are more or less injured.

When the accident occurred about a hundred men were at work at the mills. A 30-foot cylinder boiler exploded without any warning, spreading death and ruin in its course. The report of the explosion was heard all over the town, and several blocks away houses were shaken and dishes were rattled on the breakfast tables.

In a short time a large crowd of people were collected. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. Engineer Kramer was standing by his engine at the time of the accident. He says the boiler had 100 pounds of steam on it. He was not hurt. The boiler had been repaired and tested about sixty days ago. It is thought there was no water in the boiler. The boiler was placed over puddling furnaces and heated from their fires. When it exploded it blew open and went through the roof, tearing out the entire end of the mill, and was then hurled about 200 feet. It crashed through the mill roof, throwing the beams and iron in all directions, completely wrecking that part of the plant. As the steam escaped from the explosion the furnaces were demolished and stacks thrown down.

A number of puddlers were buried in the ruins. The end of the boiler was found 500 yards from the mill. As soon as the steam and smoke cleared away the search for the victims beneath the ruins was begun. Lane, the bricklayer, was the first man found. He was discovered lying under the bricks and near an unexploded boiler, crushed to death. Cornelius Evans was found lying near the shears with nearly the whole top of his head torn off. It is supposed he had gone to the shears just as the explosion occurred for material for stocking the furnace. Merrill Treese was found near a furnace with his skull fractured and burned in a horrible manner. Samuel Kephart, Samuel Marks, Robert Marks, Finley Ferguson and John Woomer were found in front of their furnaces covered with debris, where they had been struck down. The other injured ones were able to get out of the mill unaided.

Just before the explosion a tramp was seen cooking a piece of meat in front of one of the furnaces and it is supposed that he was killed and buried under the ruins, as he has not been seen since the accident. The loss to the company is about $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

Peculiar Suicide at Toledo.
TOLEDO, O., Jan. 31.—A peculiar suicide occurred at the Toledo hospital for the insane Thursday in which Magdelene Messner, a melancholy patient from Gibsonburg, hung herself with her own hair. She was seated in a chair and in some manner fastened her long hair to the back of it and leaned forward, succeeding in choking herself to death in a short time. An attendant had just left her to prepare her supper and when she returned with the meal found her limp and lifeless on the floor.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., Jan. 31.—Robert McMurray and Samuel M. Marks, two victims of the Hollidaysburg iron and nail works' boiler explosion Thursday, died Friday morning.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Committee Reports Several Bills
Favorably to the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The house committee on Indian affairs Thursday reported favorably on several bills giving railroads the right of way through the Indian Territory, amendments decreasing the amount of land allowed for terminal purposes. It was also decided hereafter to require railroad companies to file with the secretary of the interior a plat of their roads so that companies can be required to keep to their lines. It was further agreed by the committee that hereafter roads should not be required to obtain the consent of the Indians before being granted a right of way. President Cleveland has vetoed several bills because the Indians did not fully consent to the right of way. The committee differ from him on this point and decided to establish a new rule, as far as they could do so.

An Amusing Case at St. Paul.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 31.—The most amusing case that has come before the courts of Minnesota in many a day, ended Thursday night in a verdict for $3,500 against Thomas Jebb, a leading citizen, for alienating the affections of Mrs. A. L. Winship. The testimony taken showed that Jebb had kissed Mrs. Winship more than 2,000 times, and that he had practiced osculation in the Winship family when the husband was present. Finally, however, Jebb deeded his house to Mrs. Winship, whereupon Winship got angry and sued for $25,000. The jury gave him $3,500, or about $1.75 for each kiss he had taken.

Peace at Elkhorn, W. Va.
ELKHORN, W. Va., Jan. 31.—The colored miners who threatened Wednesday to make trouble over the lynching of Alexander Jones, showed a much more peaceful disposition Thursday. They held another meeting Thursday night, but there was not the number present that was in attendance Wednesday night, and the majority are in favor of waiting the action of the grand jury with regard to the lynchers.

There is a law that provides that no member of the general assembly shall be trustee of any reformatory, penitentiary, or educational institution. Mr. Elder's house bill requiring county commissioners to meet and organize on the third Monday in September passed the senate. The bill of Senator Hustler, abolishing the three days of grace on commercial paper, with an amendment providing for notes falling due on Sunday, passed the senate by a vote of 18 to 0. Senator Sullivan introduced a bill for the board of health, providing that whoever sells diseased meat or calf meat less than four weeks old, shall be fined $50 and imprisoned 30 days, or whoever feeds diseased meats or putrid meat to hogs shall be fined $200 and imprisoned 30 days on the first offense and imprisoned six months on the second offense.

The law was afterward declared unconstitutional, providing that pupils can be admitted to the institutions for the deaf and dumb at the age of seven years, instead of at eight years, as now, and giving the superintendent discretionary power to retain pupils for 13 years; prohibiting fishing with anything except a hook and line in waters of Ohio except Lake Erie; to require county commissioners to meet annually and determine the amount to be raised by taxation for county purposes. Dug Up By Excavators at Upper Sandusky;
Also, Pieces of Old Coin.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 31.—Four more skeletons were found Thursday by the excavators who are constructing a cellar for W. J. Smith on his lot on South Seventh street.

Eight pieces of money were also found, seven being silver half dollars and one a silver dime. The dates vary from 1817 to 1832. The skeletons crumbled as soon as exposed to the air.
